

Fuji Xerox Healthcare Solutions

Improve your patient experience
by providing staff with secure,
easy access to information whenever they need it.

Modernise processes to better serve patients

The more processes you change from paper-based to digital, the more you can help improve patient care. Over 80% of respondents to the Australian Digital Health Agency (ADHA) online health survey agreed that digital technology will transform and improve healthcare outcomes.[^]

Fuji Xerox is here to help you connect different data sources and leverage your existing systems to digitise record keeping processes and simplify access to patient information for staff. Allowing information to be managed in a safe, efficient manner that meets all compliance needs, and frees up staff to spend more time focussing on patient outcomes.

Start by digitising a single process, or transform your processes from end-to-end – securely, reliably and compliantly.

Fuji Xerox can assist you to transform for the future. That's why over 1,000 Australian healthcare providers rely on us.

“The introduction of a centralised, secure printing solution has given us greater visibility into user print behaviours and reduced IT workload significantly. It's also enabled us to focus on more strategic projects such as our Virtual Desktop where we adopted the same 'Follow Me' approach. With staff, already familiar and satisfied with Follow Me printing, our transition to a Follow Me desktop was as smooth as possible.”

– Bill O'Brien, Chief Information Officer, Northern Health

DOCUMENT AND WORKFLOW SOLUTIONS

Digitising, automating, and optimising document workflows offer organisations compelling benefits, including an average 35% reduction in costs, 42% reduction in paper documents, and 52% reduction in errors.*

Give your hospital the power to handle all that 'paperwork' more efficiently, and redirect time and resources into a better patient experience. Fuji Xerox can help you to:

- Simplify the way you manage information, to reduce administrative time and cost. Replace paper forms with eForms that can automatically update patient records.
- Free up staff to focus on patient wellbeing. Reduce the time doctors and other staff spend on admin by digitising documents and streamlining document management workflows.
- Provide quick access to patient information, with the ability to access digitised documents quickly, efficiently and securely from anywhere in your practice.
- Streamline patient registration and other processes. Digitise registration using eForms and feed that information directly into patient records – removing time-consuming data entry.
